Objective:

The Career in Airlines Sector seminar was organized to provide students with insights into the various career opportunities available in the aviation industry. The program aimed to inform students about the required qualifications, skills, and opportunities in sectors such as airline operations, cabin crew, ground staff, and aviation management.

Program Details:

1. Inaugural Session: The event began with a welcome speech by Prof. Binod Pratap Singh, who introduced the objective of the seminar and discussed the importance of career planning in the fast-growing aviation sector.

2. Speech by the Presiding Officer: Prof. Ravindra Kumar Pandey, the Principal, highlighted the increasing demand for professionals in the airline industry, both in India and globally. He emphasized that the airline sector offers exciting career opportunities in various fields, such as piloting, cabin crew, ground services, customer service, and management.

3. Keynote Address by Chief Guest: The Chief Guest, Capt. Lakshya Vijit Singh Sainger, delivered an engaging keynote speech about his experience in the aviation industry. He shared his personal journey of becoming a commercial pilot and provided detailed insights into the career paths available in the airline sector. Capt. Sainger discussed the skills required to succeed, such as communication, problem-solving, teamwork, and professionalism. He also emphasized the importance of discipline, training, and passion in aviation careers.

4. Career Opportunities in the Aviation Industry: The seminar provided in-depth information on various career roles in the airline industry, including:

➤ Piloting and Flight Crew: The rigorous training and certifications required to become a pilot, along with the lifestyle and opportunities.

➤ Cabin Crew: The roles and responsibilities of flight attendants, customer service skills, and the importance of safety and hospitality.

➤ Ground Staff: Career paths in airport operations, ticketing, check-in services, security, and baggage handling.

➤ Aviation Management: Opportunities in airline management, logistics, and operations, with a focus on leadership and organizational skills.

➤ The session also covered the growing demand for professionals in the airline sector due to the expansion of air travel in India and abroad.

5. Faculty Participation: The seminar was well-supported by faculty members from the Department of Commerce, who contributed to the event's success by providing career guidance and encouraging students to explore various career paths. The following faculty members participated in the program: Prof. Binod Pratap Singh, Prof. Jitendra Singh, Prof. R. S. Singh, Prof. Shailendra Nath Mishra, Prof. Aman Chandra, Prof. Rajeev Kumar Agarwal, Prof. VCHNK Srinivas Rao, Dr. B. N. Pal, Dr. L. K. Kalyani, Dr. D. K. Singh, Dr. A. P. Singh, Dr. Manish Modanwal, Dr. Pallavi Singh, Dr. Smriti Shishir, Dr. Smita Singh, Dr. Priyanka Srivastava and other faculty member and supporting staff.

6. Interactive Q&A Session: Following the presentations, students had the opportunity to engage with the guest speaker and faculty members during an interactive Q&A session. Questions ranged from the challenges of becoming a pilot to the qualifications needed for various roles within the airline sector.

7. Closing Remarks: The event concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Prof. Jitendra Singh, who appreciated the insightful talk given by Capt. Lakshya Vijit Singh Sainger and thanked the organizing committee and faculty members for their support in making the program a success.

Outcome:

The Career in Airlines Sector seminar was a resounding success, with 450 students participating and gaining a deeper understanding of the opportunities available in the airline industry. The program helped students recognize the various career paths they could pursue in aviation and motivated them to take the necessary steps to enter this dynamic and fast-growing sector. The event was highly appreciated by both students and faculty for its valuable insights and practical guidance.
